BUGGY RUN

game type: DRIVING
1-2 PLAYERS

Welcome to the most fun you will have driving a car on the Master System to date! Buggy Run is a real gem of a game thanks to its quality and different style. As the controller you are able to operate a buggy car that has to zip around courses against other cars.

Buggy Run has masses of options to choose from with one or two players. Power-ups include slicks, sand patches, very high ramps, and money bags. To give the game some real long-term challenge and depth, you receive a cash incentive for each race you win. Before progressing to the next race, you can upgrade your tyres, engine, suspension and steering. Another welcome twist is the weapon feature, where you can purchase items like mines and nitro boosters to help you get around the course and take out the opposition.

If you prefer a change from course driving, then how about a head-to-head ramming compo on a table top? You compete against another player and two computer cars, and the object is to ram them off the edge!

Overall, Buggy Run has great playability, it looks good, sounds reasonable and is a very worthwhile addition to your New Years MS collection. - VL.

DONALD DUCK 2

game type: PLATFORM
1 PLAYER

Sega and Disney have done it again with this cracking arcade game for the Master System. As the controller, you play the role of Donald Duck - your purpose being to return a cursed pendant back to a mysterious island, once visited by Uncle Scrooge. The pendant was taken from a shrine on the island by Uncle Scrooge, and the resulting curse has made him grow as big as a balloon.

You get to view a story-book-type intro where Uncle Scrooge outlines your mission, plus there is a taster of Huey, Duey and Louie too!

There is an adventure diary to help you along the way, as the island has four areas to explore: Jungle, Valley, Inlet, and Volcano. You have to make your way around each one, collecting gems and food hidden in chests, whilst taking care to avoid the nasties. You can take out the nasties by leaping on top of them or by kicking blocks into their path.

Donald Duck 2 features great graphics and the gameplay is varied and challenging. There are the usual amusing animations of Donald wobbling on the edge of a ledge, or becoming impatient if you fail to touch the pad for a while. If you have played the previous titles, you'll appreciate just how good this is! - VL.

TOE JAM & EARL 2

game type: PLATFORM
1-2 PLAYERS

MD

Yes, Toe Jam and Earl are back in an all new, all funky adventure on the Mega Drive. The original Toe Jam & Earl game met with a mixed reception - whilst some loved it, others thought its one player mode just plain boring. Now those doubters can cast all worries aside as Toe Jam & Earl 2 is a whole new game.

Toe Jam and Earl's planet has been invaded by wacky Earth tourists, and our well-known twosome have taken it upon themselves to rid the planet of unwanted visitors. You can choose to be either character in a one-player game, or alternatively, if in two-player mode, either can choose the set-up.

The action in Toe Jam & Earl 2 takes place against a horizontally scrolling backdrop. You use your funk scanner to detect the eery Earthlings, and throw jars at them, when you're close enough! The Earthlings eventually get trapped, and you have to take them to a spaceship that transports them back to Earth!

Toe Jam & Earl 2 does feature a lot in between, however. For example, you can look behind almost all objects, i.e., rocks, bushes, trees, etc. There are also some rather obnoxious tourists who take pleasure in kicking your shins, before scurrying off again. There are plenty of amusing samples, great graphics and funky dance routines to crack in this game, and it really is one of the best titles of 1994. - VL.

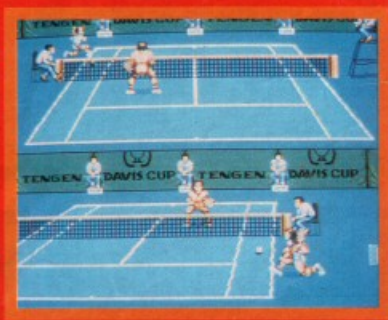
DAVIS CUP WORLD TOUR

game type: SPORTS
1-2 PLAYERS

MD

How would you like to take part in a world-class tennis tournment, playing for wads of cash and living life in the fast lane? If you would, then Davis Cup World Tour is definitely your type of game.

From the main menu you have an array of options. You may select Training, Exhibition Match, Tournament, Davis Cup, or the World 'Champion-chips'. You may also choose to play on one of four courts, including grass, clay, hard or indoors. Each one of these affects the bounce of the ball during play. Training gives you a range of options from practising with an automated machine to developing your serve. Selecting Exhibition, you must choose to play a singles or doubles game. In singles you play against either the Mega Drive or a friend. Whilst in doubles two people play against two computer opponents (or you can have one human and one Mega Drive player on each side). After choosing your skill level and the number of sets to be played you start the game. Two-player mode offers a brilliant split-screen. Otherwise it's you against machine.



The umpire, linesman and ball boys are all here, and when a mistake is made, they go into action. Some excellent speech is included for the umpire, and the players have speech bubbles so you can see what they are thinking. You can also argue with the umpire if you disagree with his decision!

The players move superbly with a full range of shots (you can even do Boris Becker-style dives for the ball). Everything you need is featured in this Davis Cup World Tour. For addiction, it's in the same class as Micro Machines. If you want a Tennis game, don't bother looking elsewhere because this is the best! - DG.

THREE'S COMING!

Sonic 3: A sneak peak at the big new game!

The 'veil of secrecy' surrounding Sonic The Hedgehog 3, the long-awaited official third game on the mega-selling series, is beginning to lift. Thanks to our friends at Sega, STC is able to bring you the first screen shots, plus details of the game every Sonic fan has been drooling over.

A lot of information about Sonic 3 is still classified, but we can tell you that it will be out on the Mega Drive in February 1994 and that it will be absolutely h-u-g-e! There'll be enormous zones and plenty of new worlds to conquer, along with some 'revolutionary' new bonus stages. Awesome graphics (take a look at the gorgeous screen shots here) and sound, plus some very challenging gameplay, especially in two-player mode, promise to make this a very special game indeed.

The regular cast are all back. There's Sonic, Tails (who, as usual, can help or hinder our hero), and Doctor Robotnik, together with a mystery new character. Sega also promise some mega, mega secret twists in the Sonic storyline!

So there you have it, Sonic fans. All we can tell you about Sonic 3 at the moment. But be sure to stay tuned to the News Zone for more information on the biggest Sonic event of 1994!

THE BATTLE OF EUROPE

Sega Euro Challenge '93

They came together in Vienna, Austria, city of music and harmony. But only one thing was on their minds - war! They were the best, the cream, the hottest young video game players in Europe and they were chasing the crown...the title of Sega European Champion of 1993. Only the strongest would survive.

The date, September 4th & 5th. The place, The Technical Museum in Vienna; Austria's finest nightspot.

(Right) Damon Hill bringing the flag down on the 1993 Sega Euro Challenge - and hoping for a spot on the next Pirate TV ad!

The event, The 4th annual Sega Challenge. The challengers (all champions in their own countries) came from Norway, Spain, Belgium, Portugal, Germany, Sweden, Switzerland, France, Finland, Norway and Austria. Britain was represented by Sega Senior and Junior UK Champions, 15 year-old Karl Roberts and 12 year-old Alan Son. Both champions won their titles earler this year at the Williams Formula One Team HQ in Didcot, Oxfordshire (see STC no.1).

Battle was joined as both junior and senior contestants from each country fought side by side for the first time in a Euro Challenge. Skill, judgement and nerves were put to the test across a range of top games: Cool Spot, Final Fight and Jungle Strike on the Mega Drive and Jaguar XJ220 on the Mega CD.

As the dust cleared, the victors emerged. Formula 1 race ace Damon Hill, repeating his performance of earler this year (STC 1), declared Sweden and Finland as overall winners in the junior and senior categories respectively. He also awarded a pair of his racing gloves to Nathalie Couller from Belgium for being the first girl ever to reach a European Final.

GAMES GET RATED

New ratings system comes into force next year

It is likely that starting from May 1st 1994, all computer and video games sold in this country will display a rating, just like films and videos.

All the major software publishers have agreed to introduce a voluntary classification system following concern over the violence content of various games. From next May all cartridge and disk-based games will receive a rating based on one of four different age groups: under 10 years old, 10 -14, 15 -17, and 18 plus. The exact form of the rating has not yet been decided.

Some games in the USA already carry ratings, ranging from GA, for 'General Audiences', to MA, for 'Mature Audiences'.

What do you think of this idea? Write to Speedlines and give us your opinions.

A WHOLE NEW BALL GAME

Football goes platform in a new game

Nearing completion and due for release from Domark in March 1994 is Marko's Magic Football, a unique blend of football skills and platform game action.

Featuring a ubiquitous 'cute' character, Marko, the game centres around a plot by an evil owner of a toy factory to turn living creatures into mutant sludge monsters with the aid of a terrible new substance. Marko and his football are the only ones that can stop this dastardly villain.

The game features excellent cartoon-style graphics and animation and looks set to be well worth a look.

Marko's Magic Football comes out on the Mega Drive and Game Gear in March 1994. STC will bring you further news nearer the time.

THE FLINTSTONES Tips

MS

The Flintstones is a great game based on the hilarious stone-age comedy cartoon series. If you're having trouble in Bedrock, then try this level access cheat:

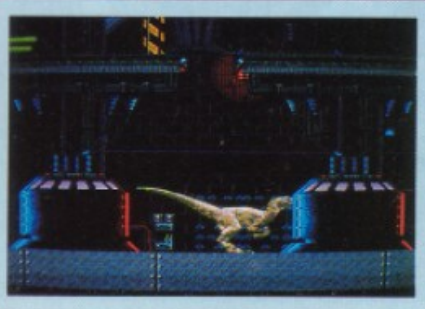
Go to the title screen and press Up, Right, Right, Down, Down, Down, Left, Left, Left and Left. Start the game and press pause immediately. Hold down buttons 1 and 2, and press Up for level 1, right for level 2, Down for level 3, or Left for level 4.

UNIVERSAL SOLDIER Tips

MS

Universal Soldier is a sort of Turrican game from Accolade. It's a very nice platform game with some decent gameplay. I have found all the level codes for the game:

LEVEL:	CODE:
2	CHSGM
3	MKSNS
4	SGGBY
5	JLGPH
6	JDRSD
7	PKSND
8	CWBPM
9	SFTMP
10	CMVDG



SILPHEED Tips

MD

Once described as the Sega version of Starwing, but now known to be nothing like it, Silpheed still has some excellent fast moving 3D graphics. Probably the third best game available for the Mega CD (second is Sonic CD), I have a number of cheats to offer:

For a stage select, press Down, Down, Up, Up, Right, Left, A, B then Start during the opening demo. The words 'Stage Select' should now appear next to the menu title.

For extra continues, press Right, Up, A, B, C, Left, Left, Down, C, A then Start, during the opening demo. The number of continues available will increase to ten.

To restore shields, press Right, Left, A, Right, Up, C, B, Down, Left, B, A, Up then Start during the opening demo. You need two joypads to use this cheat, sorry Boomers! To activate it, press A on the second pad and the shield will recover one notch. Keep pressing the button (or switch to autofire, if your joypad has it) and you will become invincible.

JURASSIC PARK Tips

We have already featured some Jurassic Park passwords, but due to its massive popularity (and the fact that I have come up with some more passwords) here are two lists of codes to help you with Doctor Grant:

Family Mis-fortunes

Dear STC,
Is Mega Droid any relation to Terminator? Please answer this letter as I'm very troubled with this question.
Terry Legg, Chippenham, Wilts. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.

Terry, I too find myself troubled with this thought. However, the answer is no, I am no more related to Terminator than I am a tin of kidney beans.

Kiss and Tail

Dear STC,
When is Tails going to have a girlfriend?
Martin McMenemy, Glasgow. MD Owner. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.

Probably when Scotland win the World Cup, Martin. Or at least, not until Tails starts to shave.

Two P, or not Two P

Dear STC,
I love the mag and have already written four times to you. I wonder where my other letters are? This time though, I thought I would send Megadroid two pence because he does not have any money.
Colin Menagh, Newtonards, N. Ireland. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.

Well it just goes to show that money does talk, Colin. Although I find your generosity touching, I would like you to know that I cannot be bought . . . not for two pence anyway (STC humes take note).

A Sorry Show

Dear STC,
I am a big fan of Sonic and Tails and I have go all of the magazines. However, I was very upset Sunday, 7 November, when I got up especially to watch Sonic at 9.30am, as STC said, only to find that the programme had finished. I then discover from the newspaper that it was on at 9.00am. I w obviously very disappointed to miss the first sho
Martin Sanseverino, Hemel Hempstead, Her Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.

Martin, Martin . . . if I had a heart I would feel sympathy for you. Howev I do apologise on behalf of the humes who mucked up. As all Sonic TV fans no know, Sonic and co appear in cartoon form on Channel 4 at 9.00am each Sunday.

Loathe Letters

Dear STC,
I can't be bothered to buy your dumb comic as costs too much! I mean, how can you afford to b a comic containing 32 pages of junk. I have boug past issues of STC, and have just worked out tha so far I've spent £8.00 (I could've bought 28 cop of the Beano with that!)
Doctor Robotnik, Wing Fortress. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.
P.S. Ha! Had you fooled didn't I. Don't take any notice of what I just said because STC is ace.

So, hume-ever you are. You think that's funny do you? Well, try this fo laughs . . . you forgot to put your re name and address.

Meet Claws, evil twin of Tails
Ross Dennis, Streevly, Sutton Coldfield. MD Owner. Sonic Water Fun Game Winner.
